EDITOR'S NOTE

On behalf of the Board of Directors and Editors of CISTERCIAN STUDIES, I would like to express our profound gratitude to Father Martinus Cawley of Guadalupe Abbey for his enormous labors in compiling this second ten-year Index. At the same time I would like to thank the Abbot and Community of Guadalupe for providing the time and space for this undertaking.

We are dedicating this Index to the memory of a confrere from Gethsemani whose last work for CISTERCIAN STUDIES was to correct the galley proofs of the present Index. It is a small gesture of our appreciation to Brother Sebastian Monahan for the many hours he dedicated to correcting proofs up to the time of his sudden death on the 21st of May, 1986. May he rest in God's peace.

INDEXES 1976-1985

Compiled by Martinus Cawley, Guadalupe

COMPILER'S INTRODUCTION.

These indexes, like those for 1966-75, have been compiled with many kinds of users in mind. All, however, will find their usefulness enhanced if they will take time to browse through them for an overall acquaintance to begin with.

The core of the present indexes is again the Classified Table of Contents. This consists of a transcription of the titles of all articles in Cistercian Studies and its Bulletin, and also of papers reported in such items. These many titles have been gathered into eight basic Parts, inspired by the original plan of the Bulletin: Western/Eastern Christian Monasticism for the periods to the year 500 / from 500 to 1000 / from 1000 to 1500 / and from 1500 to the present. Two additional Parts are provided for Generalities: Pastoral and Historical.

As much as possible, we have kept this decade's indexes in line with those of the previous decade, but editorial policies and monastic interests have evolved considerably in the meantime. Thus a number of changes will be apparent. These are explained at the head of each Section. Most notable has been the creation of a whole new Part, comprising 13 Sections, dedicated to Thomas Merton.

Another important change has been the suppression of the Analytical Thematic Index. This will be disappointing for those wishing to pursue a given theme or topic down the ages. It did, however, prove too difficult to apply to this decade's material the categories that had emerged from those of the previous one. We have, instead, rearranged the Pastoral Generalities (Part A) in terms of key topics, which should help those who may miss any kind of a Subject Index. We also have given special attention to the Index of Proper Names for the same reason.

Back in 1966-75, Cistercian Studies and its Bulletin were still very close to the corresponding pages of Collectanea Cisterciensia. By now the distance is much greater, and there is a far greater complementarity. The Ten-Year Indexes for the Collectanea are compiled on a plan quite different from ours, a plan which caters especially to librarians interested in quickly locating book-reviews. Also, the French-language Bulletin continues the same almost exhaustive coverage of monastic publications as was general in earlier years, and so we recommend it especially to seekers of bibliography.

As for the present indexes, the one for Proper Names will be of use mainly to scholars who recall a given article by its contents but need some help in relocating it in conjunction with their work. The Index of Modern Authors will be of some use to librarians looking for opinions about possible purchases. We have tried to enhance it in that direction this time. But I believe that the ones who can most profit from the present instrument are the simple monks, nuns and devout layfolk who wish to browse through the Classified Table of Contents and discover what has been going on in the intellectual life of the Ordo Monasticus over the past decade.

Although we cannot take Cistercian Studies as a fool-proof sampling of recent trends, a comparison of its first and second decades and their contents — clearly displayed in their Classified Tables — cannot but arouse interesting questions. How did it come, for instance, that the second decade seems to have lost almost all the interest the first decade showed in the monasticism of the modern Eastern Church? Then, too, the great interest shown this decade in the Non-Christian East; will it survive to show up as strongly in the 1995 Index? Above all, what nascent trends, which fledgling authors, of this decade, will be the high-lights of the next?

As for practical directions for use of the several indexes, we have taken pains to provide clear instructions at the head of each one. Initial browsing, however, will be well rewarded when it comes to practical use.

I again wish to thank our Prior, Fr John Baptist Hasbrouck, for his interest and help in the production of these pages, and especially our Editor, Br Patrick Hart, for his eagerness and support throughout the task.

FORMAT, SIGLA & ABBREVIATIONS

We trust that the format of the Classified Table of Contents (CTC), as seen on the facing page, will be self-explanatory, at least after a little experience.

The figures in the left-hand column always begin with two digits, ranging from (19)76 to (19)85 and indicating the year or volume in question. Next come either the letter "p", introducing the page number in the main body of that volume, or else the siglum, "n", introducing the entry number in the Bull.

When these figures in the left-hand column are printed in italics, the entry referred to is just a short notice. If they are printed in Roman type, it is a fuller article or review.

The letters and digits used to indicate individual Sections of the CTC are best understood by perusing the outline on the previous page. Where digits are used, they are chosen for their correspondance with the Index for 1966-75; where there are no digits, we have departed from the 1966-75 arrangement.

At the far right, some lines carry a cross-reference to another Section. All such references will be found at the head of the Section in question.

Words printed with emphasis within a title or a parenthetical note, will be found in the Indices of Proper Names or of Modern Authors.

Most of the abbreviations used will be self-explanatory, but the following may cause some to hesitate at first:

Ben. = Benedictine.

Bull. = Bulletin of Monastic Spirituality.

-cent. (following a Roman numeral) = century.

CS = Cistercian Studies.

CTC = our Classified Table of Contents.

Dict. Art. = a Dictionary Article.

eadem. = the same author (feminine).

exc. = except for.

exper. = experience.

hist. = history/historical.

ibid. = at the same citation.

idem. = the same author (masculine).

mon. = monastic/monasticism.

PP. = pages, or Fathers.

RB = Rule of St Benedict.

Relig. = religious.

RM = Rule of the Master.

RSA = Rule of St Augustine.

Soc. = social, Society.

spir. = spiritual/spirituality.

theol. = theological/theology.

trad. = tradition/traditional.

Xt, Xtian, Xty, etc. = Christ, Christian,
Christianity, etc.

PART A:: PASTORAL AND SPECULATIVE QUESTIONS.

Readers wishing to use this Part A in conjunction with the 1966-75 Index will note that our Sections Aa-Ag do not correspond with Sections A11-A84 of that work. In the 1966-75 Index we divided Part A in terms of the languages in which the statements were first made; in the present Index, we are dividing them instead by topic.

Such readers could find considerable help by consulting the Analytical Thematic Index located on pages [304] to [308] of the 1966-75 Index.

PART B :: HISTORIC MATTER TOO COMPREHENSIVE FOR OTHER PARTS.

Readers wishing to use this Part B in conjunction with any of the "B" Sections of the 1966-75 Index should have no difficulty. This time the "B" entries have been so few in number that we have made a single alphabetical listing of them, without resorting to sub-division. Thus the sequel to any "B" Section of 1966-75 will be found in this undivided Part B for 1976-85.

One entry in Section Aa is marked as also pertinent to this present Section.

SECTION E-22 :: GREGORY'S DIALOGUES & ALL PORTRAITS OF ST BENEDICT.

While many of St Gregory's writings are of monastic interest, his Dialogues hold a unique place, on account of the Life of St Benedict contained in them. This Section is in continuity with the corresponding one for 1966-75.

There are cross-references to this Section in Sections Ag, B, G01 and Jd of the present Index.

SECTION E-30:: SESQUIMILLENNIAL TRIBUTES TO ST BENEDICT.

The 1500th anniversary of St Benedict's birth, celebrated in 1980, brought many inspiring tributes and symposia. Scientific treatments of particular points are gathered in the Sections which follow, but the titles of the collections and the more august of the tributes are gathered here. There were three comparable entries in Section 30 of the 1966-75 Index.

There are cross-references to this Section in Sections Aa and Ag of the present Index.

SECTION E-31:: RM/RB: BACKGROUND, SOURCES, REDACTIONS, INFLUENCE.

This Section follow up on Sections E31 and E32 of the 1966-75 Index; it has little reference to the manuscript transmission envisaged by Section 32, but some interest in use of RB by later authors. This interest is carried further by the cross-references.

Cross-references to this Section occur in Sections D15, D25, E12, E22, G11, G23, G25, Jc & Jd.

SECTION G-15:: NON-CISTERCIAN, MALE WRITERS & INDIVIDUALS (EXC. ANSELM).

While this Section, as a whole, is a simple continuation of the corresponding one in the Index for 1966-75, it contains a major innovation by including non-Monastic Saints and Mystical Writers.

SECTION G-21:: CISTERCIAN, MALE MONASTICISM: ORIGINS & OVERVIEWS.

The reader will notice that, among the many Cistercian items here in Part G of the present Index, a great majority are printed in italics — an indication that they are given only passing mention in Cist. Studies or the Bulletin. This mention is given to them mainly in reports upon Cistercian Symposia, especially at Kalamazoo. We group those reports at the head of this Section. We also place here all Cistercian topics difficult to assign to the other Sections which follow, topics which regard the Cistercian phenomenon as a whole.

There are cross-references to this Section in Sections G15 and Jg of the present Index.

SECTION G-22:: CISTERCIAN, MALE MONASTICISM: REGIONS & HOUSES.

Here we gather the vast array of papers from experts in the more secular disciplines of the history of Economics and Architecture. Many of the items provide important correctives to the more contemplative literary approaches. The corresponding Section in the Index for 1966-75 has but a fraction of the number of entries given here.

SECTION G-23:: CISTERCIAN, MALE MONASTICISM: MINOR WRITERS.

The term "Minor" is not a reflection upon the importance of these writers. It is simply that, in the Index for 1966-75, we created numbered Sections for those Cistercian Writers who had a sizable number of entries, and we lumped all the others together into a single Section. This time around, some of the "Minor Writers" have more items than those with Sections to themselves.

Texts: (Note: We sub-group these texts by their authors, and follow each with any studies about them.)

Idung of Prüfening:

- 77n551 HUYGENS, R. Le moine Idung & ses deux ouvrages: Argumentum super quattuor quaestionibus (Critical Latin text). Dialogues duorum monachorum (ditto).

PART TM:: THE THOMAS MERTON LITERATURE.

One of the great riches of Cist. Studies and its Bulletin this last decade has been its many Merton items. In the 1966-75 Index, Merton items were scattered in many Sections (see the Indices of Modern Authors & Proper Names) but Section A82 and J32 were reserved to him. This time, instead, we have set him up entirely on his own, in 13 special Sections.

SECTION TM-A:: BIBLIOGRAPHIES OF MERTON LITERATURE.

This adds to the opening items of Section J32 in the 1966-75 Index.

- 76n478 DELL'ISOLA, F. Thomas Merton: A Bibliography (dated 1975).
80p100 HART, P. Thomas Merton: Works in Progress.

SECTION TM-B:: WRITINGS OF MERTON PUBLISHED IN CISTERCIAN STUDIES.

These are published from transcripts or notes of talks Merton gave. They appeared as articles of his in the present periodical.

- 76n475 The Ascetic Life, Exper. of God & Freedom (in CS, 1974, pp. 55-65).
78p3 DAGGY, R. (presents) Christian Contemplation (Preface to Japanese Edition of "Seeds of Contemplation").
78p191 Theology of Prayer (Talk to Jesuit Scholastics in India).
78p289 Rebirth & the New Man in Xty. (Preface to Japanese Edition of "The New Man").
82p302 Xtian Humanism & Virginity in St Ambrose (a 1962 conference).
83p3;
83p121;
83p201;
83p289;
84p62;
84p139;
84p267;
84p336. The Inner Experience.
85p212 St Aelred of Rievaulx & the Cistercians (written in mid-1950s).

G24

SECTION TM-C:: WRITINGS OF MERTON NEW TO THE U.S. PUBLIC.

These are items similar to those in Section TMb above, but the publishing organ was other than Cist. Studies.

The item on Adam of Perseigne is also listed in Section G23 above.

- 76n445 Marxism & Monastic Perspectives (Bangkok).
- 76n484 Faulkner Meditations: The Wild Palms (a 1967 Conference).
- 76n487 The Mystic Life: 11 cassettes (22 talks, largely on Sufism: 1967-68).
- 77n541 Intro. to Translation of Letters of Adam of Perseigne. G23
- 77n569 BURTON, N. (et al. Edd.) Asian Journal.
- 78n16 Cargo Cults of the South Pacific (greatly abridged from extensive notes).
- 78n34 The Ascesis of Sacrifice: Pasternak's Letters to Georgian Friends (Merton's review article).
- 78n36 The Collected Poems of TM. (includes many unpublished or uncollected).
- 81n74 PATNAIK, D. (presents) Geography of Holiness: Photography of TM. (100 photos).
- 81n103 DAGGY, R. (Ed.) Introductions East & West: The Foreign Prefaces.
- 84n283 Woods, Shore, Desert: A Notebook, May, 1968 (Redwoods, etc.).

SECTION TM-D :: MERTON REPRINTS & NEW GROUPINGS OF ESSAYS.

These items had already come in print, at least privately, but the editions announced here make them available in new printings or new collections.

Guigo's letter, listed here, is also listed in Section G15 above.

- 76n486 Ishi Means Man: Essays on the Native American Indians.
- 77n540 The Solitary Life (reprinted in a magazine).
- 78n14 The Monastic Journey (collected articles).
- 78n17 Six Letters: Boris Pasternak/Thomas Merton (Intro by Pasternak's sister).
- 78n32 What is Contemplation?
- 78n37 On the Solitary Life (TM's translation of Guigo the Cathusian's letter).
- 82n129 Thomas Merton on St Bernard (Three early essays collected). G25
- 85n311 McDONNEL, T. (presents) Blaze of Recognition... (Merton Texts selected for daily meditation).

SECTION TM-E :: BRITISH & FOREIGN EDITIONS OF MERTON'S WRITINGS.

These items are like those in Section TMd, except that the publication takes place outside of the U.S.A.

- 76n479 Power & Meaning of Love (British ed. of "Disputed Questions").
- 76n480 TM on Zen (Brit. ed. of "Mystics & Zen Masters", plus "Zen & the Birds of Appetite").
- 76n485 Spir. Direction & Meditation; also: What is Contemplation? (British edition of both essays under one cover, with double title).
- 78n18 Conjectures of a Guilty Bystander — now in French & Italian: Réflexions d'un spectateur coupable. Diario di un testimone colpevole.
- 78n35 TM on Peace (British ed. with same title, but some omissions).
- 79n52 Meditations on Liturgy (Brit. ed. of "Seasons of Celebration").
- 81n77 Love & Living (British Edition).

SECTION TM-F :: FORMAL BIOGRAPHIES OF MERTON.

In addition to the reviews given in the Bulletin, Cist. Studies has run a number of "review articles" in its regular pages. Two of these, by J.-E. Bamberger, introduce biographies of Merton.

- 81n73 FOREST, J. TM: A Pictorial Biography.
81n96 FURLONG, M. Merton: A Biography.
82p99 BAMBERGER, J.-E. In Search of TM (critique of Furlong's biography).
85p65 idem. (reviews) M. Mott's "The Seven Mountains of TM".

SECTION TM-G :: COLLECTED TRIBUTES PAID TO MERTON.

The 10th Anniversary of Merton's death (1978) produced many tributes to be added to those already available. We here list the published collections.

Note: The following reviews & articles allude to far more papers than we have been able to mention individually in this index; we have tried to list the most important.

- 78p224 HART, P. (announces) Symposia & Tributes for the Tenth Anniversary: Kalama-zoo, Vancouver (papers are listed, but not her indexed), Marquette, Wisconsin, Paulist Press, Loyola (Chicago), Columbia, Bellarmine.

INDEX OF PROPER NAMES

This is not an exhaustive inventory of all topics treated in the last ten volumes of CS and its Bull. Rather, it simply gathers and alphabetically lists the proper names that have been printed with emphasis in the Classified Table of Contents (CTC). It serves as an aid in retrieving items that are vaguely remembered, especially when the author's name is forgotten.

Directions for Use.

- 1) Locate the desired proper name in the following alphabetical list.
- 2) Note the symbol(s) printed after the name, indicating the section(s) of the CTC in which the name appears.
  - (i) Symbols printed in bold letters indicate sections of the CTC where your name occurs more than once.
  - (ii) If the section symbol is followed by the sign "=", the figures which follow will give you a short cut to the volume (year) and page (or Bulletin number) where your desired items is to be found. This service is offered only where space allows.
  - (iii) If this volume reference is printed in italics, the item itself will be only a short notice, a passing reference to your topic in the course of a broader article.
- 3) If you do not find the item you desire by scanning the section of the CTC thus indicated, look to the top of the section. There you may find cross-references to other sections, where your topic will be jointly treated with a topic proper to that other section.

INDEX OF MODERN AUTHORS

Directions for Use.

- 1) Locate your author in the following alphabetical list. Anonymous authors are listed first.
- 2) Observe the symbols printed with your author's name.
  - (i) The letters, with or without numbers, refer to the sections of the Classified Table of Contents (CTC) in which your author appears.
  - (ii) Bold print for any of those symbols indicates that your author appears more than once in that section.
  - (iii) The sign "=", which follows many entries offers you a short cut by sending you directly to the volume and page (or Bulletin number) concerned. When these data are given in italics, the item in the text treats your author only in passing, by way of a short notice. We offer this service only where space allows.
- 3) Turn to the appropriate section of the CTC and look for your author.
  - (i) Generally the name will appear in UPPER-CASE letters at the beginning of the item concerned. Otherwise it will be in bold print.
  - (ii) Generally also it will be in alphabetical sequence within the section, but many sections have subdivisions, and some items have several authors, necessitating a broader search for your author.
  - (iii) Having located the desired title, observe the indication of the volume (year) and page (or number), as explained above 2 (iii).
- 4) For fuller detail and greater ease of consultation, see the overall directions on p. 62 above.

LIST OF REVIEWERS FOR THE BULLETIN

Note: Some reviewers prefer to be known only by initials; these are printed in bold letters. Other reviewers alternate between initials and full name (this is especially true when a reviewer has more than one bulletin in a given issue); for them too, the initials are given in bold lettering. Other forms of the names are given in parentheses.

A MERTON TRILOGY

With the publication of The Legacy of Thomas Merton (May, 1986) edited by Brother Patrick Hart, Cistercian Publications will have completed a Merton Trilogy. The two previous volumes were entitled The Message of Thomas Merton (1981) and Thomas Merton/Monk: A Monastic Tribute (new and enlarged edition, 1983). The table of contents of this third volume will give some idea of the range of materials included. The editor chose what he considered the most important articles related to Merton's enormous legacy to monks and contemplatives in particular, some of which appeared in the pages of Cistercian Studies during the past decade.
